FRANKLIN-COX.

Dr. D. C. Franklin and Miss Elizabeth T. Cox Married Yesterday.

In the presence of a large gathering of their friends Dr. DeWitt Clinton Franklin and Miss Elizabeth Thomas Cox, a close husband and wife yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The very beautiful and spacious home was decorated with the sunniest and just a few plants to relieve the conventional set of the home and to add a little color of festivity which on such an occasion demands.

In the East room, which is the salon parlor, the ceremony was said by the Rev. John C. Molloy, Pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, to which the bride belongs and for which creed she has always been a zealous and faithful worker. After the benediction a short while was consumed in congratulations and good wishes, then a carriage in waiting whisked the happy pair to the C. and O. Station, where they boarded the Eastern Flyer for a trip East.

Dr. Franklin is a very popular man, and as successful in his chosen profession as he is justly popular, and all who know him are glad of the happiness which is his from this day.

The bride was exquisitely dressed in a traveling suit of brown imported cloth with a waist of violet silk, while the coat was tailor made, having the gold applique and fetching luttons over lapels and down the front. Her hat and gloves matched, and to give staidness and charm to an already accomplished person Miss Cox carried American beauty roses.

The presents were sufficient to fill the upper boudoir, and were ample cause for rapturous exclamations which involuntarily came from the gentle sex while scrutinizing the choice silver pieces, superb cut glass, rich bric-a-brac and other elegant articles which will beautify and adorn their home as silent reminders of Love's expression from a coterie of friends who have their future welfare at heart.

Disease and danger lurk in the vital organs. The blood becomes vitiated, and the general health is undermined, when the stomach and liver fail to perform their functions as nature intended. HEED FOR RANSOM

Only Son of E. A. Cudahy, Millionaire Packer, Kidnaped at Omaha.

AN ANONYMOUS LETTER RECEIVED.

An Offer Made to Return Him Safe and Sound to His Parents for the Sum of $25,000.

The Missing Boy Was Returned Home Thursday Morning—Mrs. Cudahy says the Reward Will Be Paid to His Abductors.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 20.—Edward Cudahy, Jr., 15 years old, only son of Edward A. Cudahy, the millionaire packer and head of the Cudahy Packing Co. in Omaha, is missing from this city. His father believes he has been kidnaped. The entire police and detective force of the city and 50 men employed by Mr. Cudahy hunted for him all day without success. Business at Cudahy's packing plant in South Omaha was practically suspended on Wednesday, nearly the entire force being called in the search. The father has offered to pay a substantial reward and ask no questions if his son is returned to his home.

Searching For the Boy. Young Cudahy left home at 8 o'clock Tuesday night to take some books to the residence of Capt. Rusk about two blocks distant, and that is the last seen of him. As midnight arrived and he did not return, the police were notified, and two detectives were detailed to work on the case.

It was not until nearly 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, however, that the matter began to assume a really serious aspect. At that hour a man on horseback rode rapidly by the Cudahy mansion and as he passed the front gate threw a letter into the yard. A servant who saw him took the letter into the house, where it was read. It is in substance as follows:

Anonymous Letter Received.

"Mr. E. A. Cudahy: Your son is safe. We have him and will take good care of him, and will return him to you in consideration of the payment of $25,000. We mean business, 'Jack.'"

The remainder of the note the police refuse to present to the father, and they say it relates to the place where the money is to be left and where the kidnappers are to leave the boy in case Mr. Cudahy complies with their terms. The servant who saw the man on horseback was able to give a good description of him, and tonight is the clear word which the police are working at present.

Covered Wagon Near the Residence.

Charles W. Martin, who lives near Mr. Cudahy's home, while passing a block in the city on Tuesday evening saw a covered wagon standing in the shadow of a clump of trees. One man sat in the wagon and was talking to another man who stood on the ground. They lowered their voices as Martin passed them. A companion of young Cudahy recalls seeing a horse and rider two or three nights near the Cudahy home.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 20.—The 15-year-old son of Edwin Cudahy, who disappeared from his home in Omaha Tuesday evening, and for whom the police have been searching since his disappearance, returned at 1:30 Thursday morning.

The Reward Will Be Paid.

Mrs. Cudahy parried all questions, and said that she would not say whether the ransom had been paid or not. "I will not talk any more to-night and that's all there is to it." "We are in no shape to talk to-night," said Mr. Cudahy. "Neither is the boy. He can tell his story later just as well. He was abducted all right. I don't know yet how or where he was taken. He was returned to the house by the men who took him away. They brought him to the gate and left him there. The reward will be paid. Further than that I positively decline to say anything beyond that will be given out now."

THE BOOZ INQUIRY.

Interesting Testimony Given in Re-arranged to Hear of the Boy at West Point Military Academy.

West Point, N. Y., Dec. 20.—Some very interesting testimony was brought out Wednesday by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former Cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined during the morning and afternoon sessions and of these one was the brother of Lieut. Richmond P. Hobson, of Merrimac fame, another was the son of Gen. Phil Sheridan, and a third Mark Brooke, of Pennsylvania, a nephew of Gen. Brooke, who is the presiding officer of the court. All three told of the hazing they got during the encampment of 1908, at the time Oscar L. Booz was their classmate.

Stood on His Head in a Bath Tub. Hobson's worst ordeal was when he had to stand on his head in a bath tub in which there was about ten inches of water. He said he was partially strangled, but all was right in a few minutes. Young Phil Sheridan was made to ride broomstick along the company's street in commemoration of his illustrious father's ride, and he had to keep shouting "Turn, boys, turn," all the time. He did not think this was humiliating, he said, although he did not relish the task.

Offenses Practiced Secretly.

In nearly every instance the witnesses said that all the more brutal forms of hazing were obsolete, and while "brading" was still practiced secretly it was against the regulations and if any one were detected violating these regulations he would be summarily dealt with and severely punished. There are about a score or more of Booz's classmates to be examined and several of the first class men to be heard from, as well as some of the officers.
